

Roots of Empathy Instructors Needed

Roots of Empathy (ROE) is seeking experienced people to undertake an exciting and challenging opportunity as a Roots of Empathy Instructor.

What is Roots of Empathy?

ROE is an evidence-based program that has shown dramatic effect in reducing levels of aggression among school children while raising social and emotional competence and increasing empathy. The program reaches elementary children from Kindergarten to Grade 8. In Canada, the program is delivered in English and French and reaches rural, urban, and remote communities including Aboriginal communities. ROE is also delivered internationally in New Zealand, the United States and the Isle of Man.

Who Can Become a Roots of Empathy Instructor?

Becoming a Roots of Empathy Instructor requires a willingness deliver the program and a commitment to deliver 27 classroom lessons of 30-40 minutes each, to work collaboratively and cooperatively with school and classroom staff and to participate in four days of training. Background knowledge and expertise in some but not all of the areas indicated below will enhance program delivery:

- Teaching children in a classroom setting
- Child development and learning from Kindergarten to Grade 8
- Infant development
- Parenting education/support
- Cultural sensitivity
- Community development

Although this is a volunteer opportunity, there will be an honorarium offered.
